Letter from DCP Director Daniel Garodnick

To my fellow New Yorkers:

Every year, each of New York City's 59 community boards advocate for the needs of its residents and stakeholders by preparing a Statement of Community District (CD) Needs and Community Board Budget Requests. Through this process, community boards share the top issues impacting their neighborhoods and propose capital and expense requests to address those identified needs. I'd like to thank the volunteer members of our community boards and the District Managers who work so hard in leading this essential process and in preparing these reports.

The annual CD Needs process is the product of months of collaboration and public input and is a valuable tool for New Yorkers to participate in neighborhood planning. At the broadest levels, CD Needs offers a critical window into the challenges faced by New Yorkers, and how those challenges may differ across neighborhoods. At a granular level, it provides a forum through which community leaders specify those needs and make recommendations for spending -- which in turn are used by City agencies, elected officials, advocacy groups, and non-profit service providers, among others, to better understand and meet the individual needs of each community board.

Through this year's submissions, we heard the stories of our communities' biggest challenges, such as the human impacts of our housing crisis. In that vein, community boards again selected affordable housing as the most pressing issue citywide, followed by crime and public safety, and parks and open space. Through our online form, community boards generated more than 3,700 budget requests, and for each, one of 28 City agencies responded to indicate whether the request could be accommodated within the upcoming annual budget. This year, in line with our commitment to increasing transparency across the CD Needs process, we are publishing agency responses to these requests in the final section of these reports.

DCP deeply values our partnership with community boards. We remain committed to supporting them by increasing participation in, and improving the transparency of, the CD Needs process. We have received valuable feedback from our community board partners, and we are excited to work with them to continue improving our online submission form, to connect boards with agencies to advance budget request proposals, and to open the form earlier in the calendar year to allow more time for public input and preparation. We look forward to advancing this work with both community boards and City agencies to ensure this is a valuable and productive way to improve our City's neighborhoods and to respond to local community needs.

Sincerely,

INTRODUCTION

The annual Statements of Community District Needs (CD Needs Statements) and Community Board Budget Requests (Budget Requests) are Charter mandates that form an integral part of the City's budget process. Together, they are intended to support communities in their ongoing consultations with city agencies, elected officials and other key stakeholders and influence more informed decision making on a broad range of local planning and budget priorities. This report also provides a valuable public resource for neighborhood planning and research purposes, and may be used by a variety of audiences seeking information about New York City's diverse communities.

This report is broadly structured as follows:

1. Overarching Community District Needs

Sections 1 – 4 provide an overview of the community district and the top three pressing issues affecting this district overall as identified by the community board. Any narrative provided by the board supporting their selection of their top three pressing issues is included.

2. Policy Area-Specific District Needs

Section 5 is organized by seven distinct policy areas aligned with the service and program areas of city agencies. For each policy area, community boards selected the most important issue for their districts and could provide a supporting narrative. The policy area section also includes any agency-specific needs and a list of relevant budget requests submitted by the community board. If the community board submitted additional information outside of a specific policy area, it may be found in Section 6.

3. Community Board Budget Requests

The final section includes the two types of budget requests submitted to the City for the FY24 budget cycle; one list for capital and another for expense budget requests. For each budget request, community boards were able to provide a priority number, explanation, location, and supporters. OMB remains the definitive source on budget requests submitted to city agencies.

Statement on Data Accuracy

Under Title 13 of the U.S. Code, the Census Bureau is legally bound to protect the privacy of individuals participating in the decennial census. To adhere to the law and to avoid the disclosure of information about individual respondents, the Census Bureau has historically applied a host of techniques, such as top- and bottom-coding, imputation, table- and cell-suppression, and data swapping. The Census Bureau is employing a new technique with the 2020 Census, referred to as the Disclosure Avoidance System (DAS), based on differential privacy. With this approach, the Census Bureau “infuses noise” systematically across census data and sets a quantified disclosure risk, referred to as the Privacy Loss Budget (PLB).

While the new DAS approach may diminish the risk of disclosure concerns, it comes at a cost to data accuracy. Consequently, 2020 Census data users should be aware that all sub-state counts, except for housing units (which are unaffected by the DAS), may be adjusted to protect the privacy of Census participants and may be subject to reduced accuracy. Because DAS noise infusion is randomized, it is impossible for data users to know the degree to which any individual statistic is altered. However, it is possible to say that in general the relative size of errors decreases as counts increase. Consequently, data users should have greater confidence in the accuracy of the data as counts get larger. Further, an evaluation of a Privacy-Protected Microdata File (PPMF), treated with a Disclosure Avoidance System like the one applied to 2020 redistricting data, showed that counts of 300 or more rarely have sizable errors (error beyond +/- 10% of the count). Therefore, while data users need to be cognizant of data accuracy limitations, they should have confidence in conclusions based on sizable counts, which are relatively unaffected by the Census Bureau’s latest disclosure avoidance method.

3. OVERVIEW OF COMMUNITY DISTRICT

Community District 17 is comprised of the following neighborhoods: East Flatbush, Northeast East Flatbush, Rugby, Farragut/Hyde Park, Remsen Village, Ditmas Village and Erasmus. The geographic district encompasses East New York Avenue from East 98 Street to Utica Avenue, South on Utica Avenue to Clarkson Avenue, West on Clarkson Avenue to Bedford Avenue, South on Bedford Avenue to the Long Island Railroad/Glenwood Road East along the Long Island Railroad to East 98 Street, then North on East 98 Street to East New York Avenue. Community District 17 is a culturally diverse community. Between 2010 and 2020 there was a 5% increase in our total population. According to the U.S. Census Bureau Population, the 2020 population count in CB 17 was reported to be 162,446: with 78% being Black, 8% Hispanic, 2% Asian, 4% White, 8% Other. The number of residents under 18 is reported to be 31,612, a 19 % decrease from 2010. We believe, the CB 17 community have many undocumented residents who, if counted, would probably increase the total population of the district.

4. TOP THREE PRESSING ISSUES OVERALL

Brooklyn Community Board 17

The three most pressing issues facing this Community Board are:

Affordable housing

The preservation and creation of low to moderate-income affordable housing units in our district are essential for CB 17 residents to enjoy a good quality of life in our city that is more equitable and currently enjoyed by our more affluent neighbors in other New York city communities. Our community is under siege, with luxury buildings being built throughout, causing the current residents to be priced out of our community. Community Board 17 has 62,636 housing units, with 58,768 occupied units and 3,868 unoccupied. In 2019, Community Board 17 had a homeownership rate of 32.4% compared to 29.8% borough-wide. During the COVID-19 crisis, many foreclosures happened in Brooklyn, the Bronx, and Queens. However, the highest rate of foreclosure filings took place in Community Board 17, with 10.5 per 1,000 1-4 family and condo properties. Hence, we believe it is necessary to preserve homeownership and encourage access to more first-time homeownership programs like the ones offered by IMPACCT and NHS, which can ultimately help to protect and create more affordable housing. We are aware that CB 17 is made up of predominantly 1-4 family homes. Many of them are not owned by developers and, in many ways, often offer more affordable rents than developments. As a result, we must ensure that we keep this symbiotic relationship intact to protect tenants. This can start by addressing the current abuse of the ERAP program. This is a much-needed service that assists renters who are behind on their rent due to unemployment or underemployment caused by the pandemic. When an applicant applies for assistance, the clock stops and they can not be evicted while their application is being processed. This would normally be a godsend for tenants facing some harsh realities during the pandemic because they get a chance for their rent to get paid and the landlord receives relief from the program too. However, there are a portion of our community who have figured out how to game the system. They file applications knowing that they are not eligible and that they can't be evicted while their applications are being processed. They repeat the process over and over thereby delaying their evictions while continuing to not pay the landlords and the tenant can apply as many times as they like without prejudice. This can be devastating to a small landlord who is dependent on the rent from the tenant and with no other means of assistance from the state or federal government they can end up behind in their mortgages and/or property taxes and be forced into a position where they may have to sell their homes (perhaps to developers) for pennies on the dollar. Then they are not able to pass the property down to family which ends up destroying this avenue to generational wealth. In 2019, Community Board 17's median household income was $61,940, with 31.60% of households severely rent-burdened. As a result, CB 17 supports the expansion of rental assistance like the ERAP program. We believe that supporting rent-burdened community residents through rental assistance programs will allow residents to remain in their homes and move on to improving their quality of life. We also support the need for more access to a lawyer, like what is offered through the legal aid society when tenants face possible evictions because it has been shown that tenants with representation are more likely to be able to stay in their homes, thereby saving them from becoming homeless in our neighborhood. The pandemic has caused many financial hardships, but we don't want to see our neighbors end up in the street while working on getting back on their feet. It is also essential to ensure that there is ample assistance to help potential tenants applying to programs like HUD and section 8 or CityFHEPS for vouchers and the housing lottery on housing connect and, where possible, get these programs expanded to ensure that their applications are completed well; therefore, providing them with a better chance for success. We are aware that many residents within our community are elderly, English language learners, or may not understand the intricacies that go into many of these applications. As a result, it is essential to ensure that help is afforded to CB 17 residents who require it. We also need to get Our elected officials curb the request of real estate companies (and direct landlords) requiring potential tenants to make 3 (three) times the rent requested as this can sometimes edge someone out who could otherwise afford the rent asked. Furthermore, it is essential to note that increasing the affordable housing stock within our city and district should be paramount. There must be a solution to add more affordable units to our community, starting with our elected representatives. We need to work with our elected representatives to ensure that landlords/developers aren't "warehousing the apartments" stock by purposely leaving them off the market. At the same time, the owners wait for the rents to rise back to pre-pandemic rates. We also need to have more rules to curb the landlord's/developers' use of short-term rental sites like Airbnb for the available apartments in our community. These units are not hotels, but as long as they are allowed to treat them as such, there will be fewer units to rent long-term because they can make more money on these sites with short-term rentals. Also, identifying vacant and abandoned lots and buildings is critical to ensure that more affordable housing is created in CB 17. Identifying these areas is vital to building more units, which is necessary within our city and district to increase the housing stock and ultimately create more affordable housing. Additionally, when making more units, it is irresponsible not to consider parking, as our neighborhood is where many residents rely on automobiles. Therefore, adding parking garages to new construction is an important consideration. Residents express immense concerns over gentrification and the neighborhood fabric of Community Board 17, as Brooklyn Community Board 17 has not faced a rezoning in 17 years. Such development pressure is not only a threat to the fabric of the neighborhood but also the well-being of residents and locally owned businesses. They are proving that such adversity is not “just” a zoning issue but an issue of social justice that contributes to the district's affordability, ownership, and public safety. Therefore, CB 17 believes that for us to maintain housing affordability, the effects of gentrification must be addressed. CB 17 is not against a diverse community. However, it is essential that the city is responsible for creating safeguards for residents and securing excellent and affordable housing even when drastic neighborhood change is imminent.

Crime and public safety

Public safety is a concern city-wide, with Mayor Adams campaigning to end gun violence. Community Board 17, which falls in the 67th precinct, calls for more anti-violence initiatives as struggles in 2021, a 9 percent jump in significant crimes. The Deputy of the 67th precinct calls for relationship-building and interaction with the community regarding public safety and well-being. We believe that more community-based officers are essential in curbing the rise of crime and that this should be a priority. But we are also advocates for anti-violence efforts conducted by non-profits such as Elite Learners, Basketball Tournaments at Tilden High School, and summer employment programs for youth, where an increase in funding is also necessary. Post-secondary workforce development would also be a deterrent to concerns of public safety as well. Other efforts to cut down violence also include removing guns from the streets. In January, the 67th precinct pulled 37 guns from the community. Community outreach, social media postings, skills training, and increased funding can be streamlined to continue such initiatives. Community Board 17 believes land use, sanitation, and housing impact public safety. CB17 lacks open green space and community spaces in neighboring areas such as Prospect Heights. The reasons for this involve questions of equity and systemic injustices. The limited recreational space and opportunities for the Community Board can lead individuals to other unhealthy avenues. Parks such as Tilden Park should be renovated, especially the basketball court. Other parks that require maintenance include the Railroad playground and the park by Nazareth High. A straightforward fix for the gardens is to extend the hours of operation and keep the bathrooms unlocked. While open space can be limited, the community board can work with private and public entities to get creative on how the community views public space. There are questions on the relationship between public safety and mental health. Allocating resources towards mental health, people with disabilities, and senior populations would make for a stronger, more harmonious community. Community Board 17 is a naturally occurring retirement community with a scarcity of supermarkets. Measures need to be taken to promote food equity, not only in terms of distance but also in food quality. Creating more farmers' market opportunities, perhaps on corridors where safety is a concern, could bring more people to such areas and provide equal access and community. Vibrancy through place-making, whether farmer's markets or community installations, could help to integrate new community facilities and build relationships. In addition, there need to be more resources allocated to areas causing crime, such as poverty and migration effects, and research on restorative justice techniques to prevent them.

Land use trends (zoning, development, neighborhood preservation, etc.)

Community Board 17 has faced harassment from developers seeking interest in one to two-family homes within the district. In addition, home ownership has been known to vary significantly between boroughs and different racial groups. Considering the demographics of Community Board 17, it stands that developers buying up existing properties from homeowners will have a racial impact and affect an individual's ability to have a stake in their community, as homeownership can be used to build wealth. As of now, much of the community is rent burdened. New York City has a past with discriminatory real estate practices where loans were not given to lower-income communities of color. Neighborhoods were labeled as a “risk” to loan corporations and color-coded on maps.

“Good” candidates for investment were shaded green and blue. At the same time, “risk” candidates were colored yellow and red. Community Board 17, known as C 13, was yellow. While white families could purchase homes and see such homes increase in value, policies have systematically discriminated against families of color who desired the same path. New York City’s gentrification has resulted in further displacement, eviction, or modern-day redlining as developers are building for the top of the real estate market. Development and zoning disproportionately affect communities of color, and this is not a new concept. Public Advocate Jumaane Williams was the first proponent of a racial impact requirement for developers and has expressed that “the more we have tools [...], the more we can sift through what’s just noise and what’s serious and needs to be addressed.” New York City has approved the requirement for racial-equity impact studies before land-use rezoning efforts to protect neighborhoods like Gowanus, Bushwick, Inwood, Two Bridges, and Community Board 17. While the Land Use Committee has responded to growing concerns of out-of-context development and homeowner harassment, dating back to a letter sent to the Brooklyn Office of the New York City Department of City Planning in June of 2018, there still needs to be an increase in anti-displacement programs in East Flatbush. The Land Use Committee has hosted several community workshops and surveys in the past during an initiative titled “We Shall Not Be Moved” to educate residents on the board’s growing concern about displacement and encroaching development. In February 2020, Community Board 17’s Land Use Committee and Consultants from WXY met with the Brooklyn Office of the New York City Department of City Planning to share a community-led rezoning proposal. A few weeks after the meeting with the New York City Department of City Planning was the unexpected COVID- 19 pandemic. In July 2020, the Land Use Committee sent the Brooklyn Office of the New York City Department of City Planning a memorandum explaining how the COVID-19 pandemic has exacerbated existing inequity within New York City and shows more than ever, the need for rezoning in Community Board 17. A future rezoning could increase public investment, which is imperative. Developer engagement should also be put into legislation and planning processes. Allowing mixed-use buildings, where the community has a stake in what vendors are provided, can let more childcare opportunities, banks, and schools. Rapid development occurs predominantly in the northeast and eastern side of Community Board 17. Developments with more units are found on Linden Boulevard and Lenox Road between Flatbush Avenue and Nostrand Avenue. Other pockets of developments currently in the approval process are happening where Flatbush and Nostrand intersect as well as by New York Ave and Foster. There are developments at the start of Remsen Avenue and between Utica Avenue and Kings Highway. A specific 900- unit housing project at Clarkson & Albany has been a point of contention. The development will include rebuilding two of the three homeless shelters that sit near Clarkson & Albany and creating approximately 300 supportive housing units. Other notable sites where community residents fear rapid displacement include Clinton Boulevard, Linden Boulevard, and Farragut Avenue. Community Board 17 needs support from local non-profits to commit to a zoning amendment. Support from the board and the community will provide a clear and collective message to the city that the Mayor needs to expedite the rezoning process and acknowledge the adverse effects of real estate development. Residents also believe research on how increasing congestion in CB17 will affect schools, the power grid, hospitals, and public transportation is imperative. Suggestions on how to collect such data include the creation of a database and more conducted surveys. In addition, open lines of communication between the community district and other city agencies can help to prevent tax liens and evictions. Community Board 17’s Contextual Rezoning Plan should provide an inventory of suitable land for residential development and detail the community’s maintenance, preservation, sustainability, and housing development goals. If development is going to happen, communities should be given grants to community nonprofits and educational centers to ensure community investment. The Contextual Rezoning Plan could include multi-family and mixed-use developments by allowing accessory dwelling units (ADUs) to increase housing supply but not contribute to out-of-context development. Seattle has recently rezoned several single-family neighborhoods as “small residential lots.” The classified zoning allows for multifamily housing that is not as dense and matches the fabric of the community. Placing development priority on vacant and underutilized land can also increase housing options without harassing homeowners. Community Board 17 could also advocate for interventions that promote rent regulation and short-term rentals to help residents and prevent displacement. Community Board 17 should also explore ways to adopt laws protecting residents from evictions. Units should be offered below market rate to renters of different income brackets. Other ways to stabilize include a community benefits agreement where non-profits and on-ground- organizations can help to keep development in line with the community’s vision for the future. Community Land-trusts also help to give people a stake in their community.

5. SUMMARY OF COMMUNITY DISTRICT NEEDS AND BUDGET REQUESTS

HEALTH CARE AND HUMAN SERVICES

Brooklyn Community Board 17

Most Important Issue Related to Health Care and Human Services

Chronic diseases prevention and management (diabetes, heart disease, etc.)

COVID-19, while devastating to our community, has been layered on preexisting and ongoing health issues plaguing our community. Access to Health Care and information that will empower our community to make healthier informed choices for healthcare remains a focus for this community. While diabetes, obesity, and hypertension are just as high or higher in our community as compared to the entire City of New York, we have an additional obligation to ensure our mental health needs remain at the forefront of any services being provided to the community and those services must include awareness, acceptance, and access. The latest data available at the time of this narrative was released from The NYC Department of Health and Mental Hygiene in April and May of 2020 found “New Yorkers to be experiencing stress, anxiety, and depression, and parents reported the emotional or behavioral health of children as being negatively affected by COVID-19”. We are in the aftermath of these occurrences, and the Mayor’s Office of Community Mental Health states one in five New Yorkers experiences mental illness each year. That’s about 65% of Brooklynites.

YOUTH, EDUCATION AND CHILD WELFARE

Brooklyn Community Board 17

Most Important Issue Related to Youth, Education and Child Welfare

Other

New York City has seen more than sixty thousand Asylum seekers who have taken residence in the five boroughs over the last six months. According to an article written in Chalkbeat, at least 5500 have now been enrolled in our schools across the boroughs. Many of these students have high needs for bilingual teachers, Social Workers, and Health & Mental Services. To help address these students' social and emotional needs, we will be required to help them adjust to their new environments by providing limited services and programs in our schools. The increased number of students will call for additional funding to add other resources to our schools. New York received 8.9 Billion from The American Rescue plan and the Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief State Plan; part of these funds was allocated for Mental health services, Social Workers, and expanding Afterschool Programs. This year, the NYC school budget is 38 Billion due to all the funding sources. However, the issue becomes what happens when these funding sources are depleted; how do we continue to provide the adequate resources and tools needed for our schools? Covid has set our students back to an all-time academic low. To maintain a level of educational advancement and provide those necessary services, we need to maintain a level of funding from Public and private sources that will give us the economic advantage that our students need. School-Based Health clinics in our schools are essential. They add value to address our students' health and emotional needs and provide parents with an avenue they can navigate outside the regular healthcare system. Students can utilize these services during the school day without missing school. Currently, Community Board 17 has no School-Based Health Clinics in the community. A much essential and needed resource that can positively impact our students. Social workers are a requirement in schools as they help address and deal with the complexities that may affect social interactions and behaviors at school or home. In April 2022, the State's Comptroller's office found that of the school districts analyzed, 95% did not meet the recommended ratio of one school social worker for every 250 students. Afterschool Programs provide opportunities for students to develop skills and pursue an interest in Music & Art, Athletic Sports, Stem or Steam activities, College essays, etc. We must ensure that funding for these services remains a constant staple within our schools. The advantages they provide for the students in our community are essential to the core of their success. Community Board 17 will continue to advocate for these services through Federal, State, and City Funding (elected officials), CBOs, and Private entities. The need for growth and development through programs and services in our schools creates positive outcomes through test scores, increased graduation rates, and equitable opportunities for the students in our community.

PUBLIC SAFETY AND EMERGENCY SERVICES

Brooklyn Community Board 17

Most Important Issue Related to Public Safety and Emergency Services

General crime

As a result of the increase in crimes within our community, we believe that addressing the root cause and putting in place preventative measures, such as increasing the number of law enforcement officers within CB17 and the 67th precinct, would create a safer community and removing guns from our streets is imperative as they are the primary cause for most of the murders. The board believes that the NYPD must focus on the uptick in crimes in our neighborhood. It is alarming that the 67th Precinct has the 3rd highest rate of murders of all precincts in Brooklyn. The truth is that even though the percentage of change between 2021 to 2022 is not drastic, there has been a 25% increase. The mere fact remains that the rate of murder is not decreasing but is increasing, which ultimately causes several other issues community-wide, such as an effect on the quality of life, since fearful residents would spend less time in their communities and on their community streets as well as visiting the stores in our community. It is incumbent on the city to ensure that safety and the preservation of lives remain paramount. Additionally, the implementation of the Neighborhood Coordinating Officers (NCO), an initiative that engages community members and officers, has garnered applause from most community residents and is still a needed continued face of our community. This form of community policing, or community-oriented policing, is a proven, evidence-based model of police building ties and working closely with members of the communities. Additionally, The Board supports the Advocates Intervene Mentor (AIM) program and requests the program be expanded and hire more mentors. The Board also believes that crime prevention programs are most effective when they operate within the community and involve community residents actively working with local government agencies to address issues contributing to crimes such as murder and delinquency. There need to be increased funding for vandalism prevention, domestic violence prevention, youth crime prevention, and other crime prevention programs. Organizations such as the 67th Precinct Council and other organizations like it are essential in providing crime prevention programming for the community, another form of prevention that we still deem to be necessary. Furthermore, it is essential to note that creating access to economic opportunities through employment can reduce crime. Therefore, CB 17 advocates for more job training programs and access to employment pipelines within our community. We believe that a concerted effort to increase the hiring and outreach efforts for young people from our community into high-paying civil service jobs, such as the FDNY, NYPD, etc., as well as other in-demand high-paying private sector jobs, can create opportunities for advancement and put money into the pockets of young people and young adults, ultimately keeping them away from crime.

CORE INFRASTRUCTURE, CITY SERVICES AND RESILIENCY

Brooklyn Community Board 17

Most Important Issue Related to Core Infrastructure, City Services and Resiliency

Cleanliness/trash collection

Sanitation is an ongoing issue in Community Board 17. The COVID-19 Pandemic enunciated the negative health impacts of poor sanitation in the community. There need to be more resources allocated to enforce anti-dumping and vehicle abandonment regulations. Related to public safety, abandoned cars are also an issue in Community Board 17. While the 67th precinct has successfully made efforts to remove some abandoned vehicles, resources such as tow trucks are limited and insufficient to keep up with the rate at which vehicles need to be removed. Catch basins, especially along commercial corridors, are inadequate to control the amount of sewage/overflow accumulating during storms and everyday operations. Currently, the catch basins are being tended to infrequently, leaving residents responsible for catch basin maintenance. Garbage accumulation, both on the street, in garbage bins, and front of many businesses in our business corridors, is also a concern. A suggestion to prevent such actions and catch repeat offenders would be to install cameras at prime hot zones. Notable sites include Rutland Road and 98th Street and surrounding the Holy Cross cemetery. In tandem with the cameras, businesses could be hit with stricter rules and regulations or even incentives to be active in the community and keep the neighborhood clean. On Nostrand Avenue and Church, there is one trash bin. This is a prime commuter area, and residents have expressed the need for more containers in this area and all of our business corridors. Additionally, Business Improvement Districts (BID) in these areas could help keep these areas clean and presentable. Furthermore, we believe that garbage collection times should be reconsidered. Nighttime collection in all areas may curb traffic issues experienced in our districts as a result of garbage trucks blocking roads during the usual morning collections. Furthermore, the nighttime collection will also help keep business corridors clean since garbage is usually left in these areas overnight, leaving a messy and unsanitary appearance for the community during the morning hours.

HOUSING, ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND LAND USE

Brooklyn Community Board 17

Most Important Issue Related to Housing, Economic Development and Land Use

Land use and zoning

Rapid development is taking place predominantly in the northeast and eastern side of Community Board 17 in areas zoned for higher densities. Developments with a larger number of units are found on Linden Boulevard and Lenox Road between Flatbush Avenue and Nostrand Avenue. Other pockets of developments currently in the approval process are happening where Flatbush and Nostrand intersect as well as by New York Ave and Foster. There are developments taking place at the start of Remsen Avenue and between Utica Avenue and Kings Highway. A specific 900- unit housing project taking place at Clarkson & Albany has been a point of contention. The development will include rebuilding two of the three homeless shelters that sit near Clarkson & Albany and creating approximately 300 supportive housing units. Other notable sites where community residents fear rapid displacement has taken place include Clinton Boulevard, Linden Boulevard, and Farragut Avenue. Community Board 17 needs support from local non-profits to commit to a zoning amendment. Support from the board and the community will provide a clear and collective message to the city that the Mayor needs to expedite the rezoning process and acknowledge the adverse effects of real estate development. Residents also believe research on how increasing unplanned congestion in CB17 will affect schools, the power grid, hospitals, and public transportation is imperative. Suggestions on how to collect such data include the creation of a database and more conducted surveys. In addition, open lines of communication between the community district and other city agencies can help to prevent tax liens and evictions. Community Board 17's Contextual Rezoning Plan should provide an inventory of suitable land for residential development and detail the community's goals for maintenance, preservation, sustainability, and development of housing. If development is going to happen, communities should be given grants to community nonprofits and educational centers to ensure community investment. The Contextual Rezoning Plan could include multi-family and mixed-use developments by allowing accessory dwelling units (ADUs) to increase housing supply but not contribute to out-of-context development. Seattle has recently rezoned several single-family neighborhoods as "a small residential lot." The classified zoning allows for multifamily housing that is not as dense and matches the neighborhood's fabric. Placing development priority on vacant and underutilized land can also increase housing options without harassing homeowners. Community Board 17 could also advocate for interventions that promote rent regulation and short-term rentals that can help residents and prevent displacement. Community Board 17 should also explore ways to adopt laws protecting residents from evictions. Units should be offered below market rate to renters of different income brackets.

Some bus lanes within our community negatively impact the economic health of our small businesses. For instance, the small business community relies on easy access to deliveries and consumer traffic for sustainability and profitability within the district. Unfortunately, some bus lanes create congestion during the day due to the clash of schedules, consequently preventing ease of access to deliveries, supplies, and consumer purchases, for instance, on Utica Avenues and Nostrand Avenues. Businesses need to be profitable to remain open. The schedule of these bus lanes needs to be reevaluated to foster a better collaboration with the daily schedules of our small business to improve commerce. Primarily, the schedules in Utica seem to pose top concerns. Reduction of Street Cameras & Increase in Speed Bumps Historically, we've found that speed cameras are usually located in areas that cause an economic burden to our local community. According to the observation of the transportation committee, speed cameras have no real tangible impact on accidents locally except for being a tax on the poor. For example, these areas were initially designated for creating safety areas within school zones. Unfortunately, the cameras have randomly branched outside non-school zones and into shared spaces throughout our community. Community Board 17 does not support the mayor's position to expand cameras city-wide. We request a project to remove security cameras from non-school zones and relocate them to their designated areas. Also, we are asking to discontinue adding additional cameras within the community. To effectively impact accidents within the district, the board requests that the city implement speed bumps as an alternative to speed cameras within non-school zone locations. Additionally, the board is asking that all of these points be considered in our local community's capital plan. Subway service and quality (frequency, access, crowding, etc.) The Board continues to receive complaints regarding congestion on Utica Avenue, double parked cars, blocked businesses, and parked on the sidewalk have become the norm in the district. The installation of the bus lanes has yet to remedy the situation. Also, the idea for a potential subway extension will only increase the volume of traffic along this corridor, causing double parking and negatively impacting businesses. Additionally, there is a need for improved bus services throughout the district and bus sheds and benches. For example, Albany Ave, Glenwood Rd, Rutland Rd, and East 98th St, a heavily traveled areas in the district, where many seniors utilize the bus services.

Quality of parks and park facilities

M.1 Allocated Senior Citizen Spaces & Programs in Parks and Open Spaces Since the Baby Boomer Generation is living longer, there is a need to provide designated spaces and programming for seniors. We are past the worst of covid, and indoor spaces might still be frightening for some to continue attending. Therefore, open-air programs at different parks and creating new spaces should be the priority. CB 17 is requesting exercise programs/ infrastructure, which can include: Tai Chi (Self Defense), low-impact exercises, and stationary equipment, as well as dance classes of all different cultural persuasions. CB17 parks and open spaces communal seating in a semi-circle formation for engagement and the building of continued bonds which communal areas can afford. We also need professional trainers and caretakers to be able to help people with disabilities or those who are mobility impaired. Our community has long been without these necessary parks services very present and implemented in other communities. Furthermore, Park maintenance is essential to the cleanliness of our parks and requires hiring additional gardeners and other skilled non-managerial personnel. The Board requests the expansion of athletic and educational programs in Computer Resource Centers to help the youth in our district.
