Statement on Data Accuracy

Under Title 13 of the U.S. Code, the Census Bureau is legally bound to protect the privacy of individuals participating in the decennial census. To adhere to the law and to avoid the disclosure of information about individual respondents, the Census Bureau has historically applied a host of techniques, such as top- and bottom-coding, imputation, table- and cell-suppression, and data swapping. The Census Bureau is employing a new technique with the 2020 Census, referred to as the Disclosure Avoidance System (DAS), based on differential privacy. With this approach, the Census Bureau “infuses noise” systematically across census data and sets a quantified disclosure risk, referred to as the Privacy Loss Budget (PLB).

While the new DAS approach may diminish the risk of disclosure concerns, it comes at a cost to data accuracy. Consequently, 2020 Census data users should be aware that all sub-state counts, except for housing units (which are unaffected by the DAS), may be adjusted to protect the privacy of Census participants and may be subject to reduced accuracy. Because DAS noise infusion is randomized, it is impossible for data users to know the degree to which any individual statistic is altered. However, it is possible to say that in general the relative size of errors decreases as counts increase. Consequently, data users should have greater confidence in the accuracy of the data as counts get larger. Further, an evaluation of a Privacy-Protected Microdata File (PPMF), treated with a Disclosure Avoidance System like the one applied to 2020 redistricting data, showed that counts of 300 or more rarely have sizable errors (error beyond +/- 10% of the count). Therefore, while data users need to be cognizant of data accuracy limitations, they should have confidence in conclusions based on sizable counts, which are relatively unaffected by the Census Bureau’s latest disclosure avoidance method.

3. OVERVIEW OF COMMUNITY DISTRICT

Community Board One is located in the southern portion of Bronx County. The boundaries of the district are the Harlem River; East 149th Street; Park Avenue; East 159th Street; East 161st Street; Prospect Avenue; East 149th Street and the East River. The neighborhoods served are Port Morris, Mott Haven and Melrose. The district has a 2020 population of 100,929, up from 2010 population of 91,497 and 82,159 in 2000. Land Use patterns are of single family and two-family residential properties, institutional, mixed residential, commercial, office, and industrial uses. The general trend of the district is one of future population growth with mixed income residents. We recently have multi- year investment of development of housing for various income ranges that for more professionals and families to call Bronx Community Board #1 home.

4. TOP THREE PRESSING ISSUES OVERALL

Bronx Community Board 1

The three most pressing issues facing this Community Board are:

Affordable Housing

As the number of city owned sites in the district is minimal it is critical that the need for affordability in the city pipeline of publicly owned sites not be reduced, meaningful investments must be made for its preservation. Development of these sites a balance of housing needed in the district must be maintained. The current new construction by private developers in the Mott Haven and Port Morris area during the past ten years are trending toward utilizing the Market Luxury- and Low-Income (30% of Gross household income) Affordability program. The advancing of this housing is seen as a return to early models of development when the district had a larger portion of vacant city titled land and housing stock. Currently, a wider range of housing covering all income classes must be pursued. We ask that new housing development under the Multifamily mix and match program and the Multifamily Rental Mixed Income program be advanced by the department in fiscal year 2023 and 2024. We further ask that funding be made available to fund the preservation of existing housing stock such as the 20 NYCHA developments and other large privately owned government assisted housing complexes in the district. The relocation of residents into the district seeking privately market rate housing south of Bruckner Boulevard along the Harlem River and in Port Morris has created and imbalance with the housing needs and affordability of residents seeking housing in the Melrose and Port Morris areas of the district. We are extremely concerned with the developments of new shelters, supportive housing and the jail in the district that is already overburdened with these uses, particularly in the Concord Avenue portion of the district. The majority of land use trends and actions over the past five years have been in the area of zoning map amendments for the development of new housing. There is a need for affordable housing for seniors that include programs to service this population.

Crime and Public Safety

There has been an drastic increase in open drug sale/use, rapes, shootings, gang related violence, drug distribution and illegal street vending throughout the district that includes robberies in the business and commercial areas throughout the district. We request an increase of community policing model officers along with proven community based violence prevention programing for young people, ages 5-17 and young adults ages 18-26 along with competitive recreation, vocational and job training opportunities be created in targeted communities within the proven statistical high crimes areas within boundaries of the NYPD 40th Precinct and NYPD -PSA 7 Area.

Quality of life issues (noise, graffiti, petty crime, etc.)

Since 2018 as a result of criminal justice bail reform, crime along with quality-of-life of offensives has risen significantly in the district. We are asking the City to implement a proper policing plan for the district to address crime, drug distribution, guns and quality of life offensives. We are asking for funding for system partnerships to develop collaborative relationships with local juvenile system stakeholders to divest youth from advancing into the juvenile justice system. In addition, we strongly request that the city support increased funding to improve and build on needed sanitation resources needed thought out the district, including additional trash baskets/ receptacles. We ask for funding for youth development, family strengthening and building community capacity for neighborhood organizations to serve youth in the community. There is a need for increased funding for preventive services and resources to help detour young people for entering juvenile justice facilities. We believe that services for at-risk youth due to the high incidents of youth violence involving guns will help to detour young people from experiencing the system. There is a need to improve oversight with parolees by the Department of Probation to ensure that parolees are properly supervised. We ask the City of New York to increase Police Officers in the district to address the rise in crime and address the quality-of-life issues.

YOUTH, EDUCATION AND CHILD WELFARE

Most Important Issue Related to Youth, Education and Child Welfare

Educational attainment

The district urgently needs support so that our schools can provide high-quality education comparable to those in other CSD- District of the Department of Education. Especially, children in need of resources and services. The state of public schools in the South Bronx is deeply concerning, with many struggling to meet the needs of their students with special education needs. The lack of access to quality education options, apart from charter schools, further exacerbates the problem. Insufficient funding in the South Bronx school education system has resulted in a limited range of resources and support for students, teachers, and staff. This dire situation often forces parents to seek schooling options in other districts, seeking a better educational environment for their children. It is crucial that we address the funding disparities in the South Bronx and invest in providing equitable access to high-level education for all students in the community.

Due to the proliferation of illegal gun possession and a rise in shootings and homicides in our streets and Housing Authority developments, there is a need for more police presence within the 10 sectors of the 40th Precinct.

Needs for Emergency Services

Community-police relations are the most important issue in Public Safety and Emergency Services; It helps to establish trust between law enforcement and residents is essential for ensuring safety and addressing concerns effectively. In many underserved areas, including parts of the South Bronx, the police are perceived as indifferent to the community's concerns, particularly when it comes to general crime, open drug use, and public nuisances like noise disruptions. This neglect erodes trust, leaving residents feeling abandoned and vulnerable. When police fail to address these issues, crime often escalates, and the community becomes less willing to cooperate with law enforcement, creating a cycle of insecurity. Improving community-police relations is key to rebuilding trust and fostering a safer environment where both law enforcement and residents work together to address crime and public disturbances.

Funding for the placement of critical air circulation and conditioning system in PS1 located at 335 East 152nd Street, the Courtlandt School. Community Board 1 is within the most profound asthma corridor of our City. We voice our concerns about the current conditions for learning in all of our schools.
